Sitar Lessons

Dear Parent / Carer

Your child has recently attended a taster sitar session and I am writing with further information about our peripatetic music lessons.

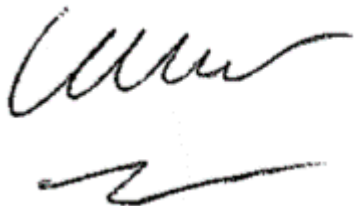

Students are usually taught in small groups, matched by ability, and the quality of instrument tuition at is excellent. Instrumental lessons are delivered by Birmingham's 'Services for Education' team, the largest music service in the country. Lessons are delivered during the school day.

If you would be interested in your child having peripatetic music lesson at Sutton Girls, please complete the booking form by clicking on the link below. We would hope to begin lessons at the start of November. Details about costs are available at the start of the form. There is financial support available for families in receipt of certain state benefits and/or who qualify for pupil premium funding. Please do not let the financial contribution act as a barrier for requesting instrument lessons for your child, e.g. instrument lessons for students who qualify for free school meals will be fully funded by school.

Please note that lessons are likely to be always during Period 1 on Friday due to our sitar teacher's availability. Please complete the attached form by Wednesdays 23rd October.
